BPUB Prepares for Beryl Ahead of Holiday Weekend

BROWNSVILLE – The Brownsville Public Utilities Board (BPUB) is proactively monitoring weather conditions and preparing its teams and infrastructure to maintain service reliability and respond swiftly to the potential impacts of Beryl. Currently classified as a major hurricane, Beryl is expected to weaken to a tropical storm by the time it reaches our area.

Weather forecasts indicate Beryl will bring heavy rainfall and potential strong winds to our service area over the Fourth of July weekend.

In preparation for this weather event, BPUB has taken the following measures:

- Monitoring weather forecasts and coordinating preparedness efforts across all departments.
- Reviewing emergency procedures and ensuring all vehicles and equipment are fueled and/or charged.
- Additional personnel have been placed on standby and are ready to deploy as needed.

“The safety of our customers and the reliability of our services remain our top priorities,” BPUB General Manager and CEO Marilyn D. Gilbert said. “With Beryl approaching, we are actively taking steps to minimize any potential impacts. We encourage our customers to use the long weekend to prepare for the storm.”

BPUB urges customers to take the following precautions:

- Stay Informed: Monitor BPUB’s official channels for updates on service disruptions and restoration efforts.
- Report Outages: In case of power outages, customers should report them at <https://assist.brownsville-pub.com> or by calling 956-983-6300.
- Emergency Preparedness: Have an emergency kit ready with essentials such as food, water, medications and pet supplies.

The Brownsville Public Utilities Board is a full-service, locally owned and operated utility providing electric, water and wastewater service. It has more than 580 dedicated and responsive employees that provide reliable utility service for the City of Brownsville.

BPUB Se Prepara para Beryl antes del fin de semana festivo

BROWNSVILLE – Brownsville Public Utilities Board (BPUB) está monitoreando proactivamente las condiciones meteorológicas y preparando a sus equipos e infraestructura para mantener la confiabilidad de servicios públicos y poder responder rápidamente a los posibles impactos de Beryl. Actualmente clasificado como un huracán mayor, se espera que Beryl se debilite a tormenta tropical antes de llegar a nuestra área.

Los pronósticos meteorológicos indican que Beryl traerá fuertes lluvias y posibles vientos intensos a nuestra área de servicio durante el fin de semana del Cuatro de Julio.

En preparación para este evento meteorológico, BPUB ha tomado las siguientes medidas:

- Monitoreo de los pronósticos meteorológicos y coordinación de esfuerzos de preparación en todos los departamentos.
- Revisión de los procedimientos de emergencia y aseguramiento de que todos los vehículos y equipos estén abastecidos y/o cargados.
- Personal adicional ha sido puesto en espera y está listo para desplegarse según necesario.

“La seguridad de nuestros clientes y la confiabilidad de nuestros servicios son nuestras máximas prioridades”, dijo Marilyn D. Gilbert, Gerente General y CEO de BPUB. “Con la aproximación de Beryl, estamos tomando medidas activas para minimizar cualquier impacto potencial. Recomendamos a nuestros clientes aprovechar el largo fin de semana para prepararse para la tormenta.”

BPUB recomienda a los clientes tomar las siguientes precauciones:

- Manténgase informado: Monitoree los canales oficiales de BPUB para actualizaciones sobre interrupciones de servicio y esfuerzos de restauración.
- Reporte interrupciones: En caso de interrupciones de servicio, los clientes deben reportarlos en <https://assist.brownsville-pub.com> o llamando al 956-983-6300.
